

SLUNG, Bench

Introducing Slung, the sister design to Phoenix, our double pendant lamp. The stretcher embodies the same dynamic steam bent form to create a sense of movement as the top plane disappears over the horizon only for the underside to twist back into view on its return. For comfort and elegance, the bench has been woven using Danish cord with a diagonal pattern emulating the motion in the twisting stretcher.

Available in oak or ash and can be scorched black, fumed dark, left natural or bleached white (now available without vertical support dowels between the stretcher and the woven seat).
